A detailed illustration of a branch from an oak tree. The branch is brown and woody, extending from the upper right towards the center. It has several large, green, lobed leaves attached to it. Two acorns are shown: one is still on the branch, hanging from a short stem, and the other is shown separately below it, hanging from a longer, curved stem. The acorns have a textured, scaly cap and a smooth, light-colored nut. The background is plain white.
